

Dear Friends,

Your Support over the years has changed lives, and we thank you.

Our Fall Benefit Concert, Rising Stars: Operatic Favorites and More will be held at the Maxwell Performing Arts Theatre on the Summerville Campus of Augusta University at 4pm on Sunday, October 2nd.

I would like you to support our students and our work by attending and considering a sponsorship of the concert. Suggested sponsorship levels are attached and donations of all sizes are appreciated.

The Jessye Norman School of the Arts is committed to providing high quality art enrichment to students of all ages, especially to children, and especially to those who might not otherwise have the opportunity.

With your help, we can enrich, enliven, and transform lives through three pillars of programming:

- Free afterschool and summer camp programs in drama, dance, music, visual art, digital arts, and more
- Home School Enrichment programming for military and civilian families throughout the CSRA
- Community Classes and events for children, adults, and seniors ranging from tap dance to private voice and instrument lessons.

We've watched bashful and sometimes insecure students arrive at the school, explore some of our classes, and then blossom into confident and talented young people who go on to enrich the lives of others. Many of our former students are now working in the upper echelons of their fields, including the arts.

At our recent summer camp training session, we asked all of the former JNSA students to stand up. More than half of our highly qualified teaching and support staff are former students who have either begun their college careers, graduated college, or are about to begin their college careers. All of them would cite JNSA as one of the positive factors in their success.

This year, we will serve more students than we ever have before and it will stretch our capacity further than ever. We know we can do it, but It's only possible with your help.

Sincere Thanks,

— Board of Directors —
